

Ladies & Gentlemen,

Our family would like to express its outrage at the MTV half-time show at this years' Super Bowl. Television has continually pushed the envelope of poor taste - so much so that there is very little worth watching. In a society plagued with crime, corruption and sexual indiscretions, the networks seem bent on broadcasting more and more of this filth. It seems as though the seven deadly sins have become the seven virtues. As the parents of young children, we hope that the FCC can rein the networks in and that family values could once more be a popular topic for television shows.

Many Thanks.
